The Expedition to Return to Seattle in a Short Time.

Their Efforts to Ascend Mt. St. Elias Only Partly Successful—Their Other Work in the Far North Accomplished.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 .- [By the Asociated Press.] Prof. Davidson of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, speaking this morning of the re-ported loss of the Alaska surveying party under Lieut. Russell, said that he did not believe that any danger had befallen the party, but he thought they had returned to the Coast, perhaps too late to embark on the cutter Corwin before she left Bering Sea. Prof. Davidson said Russell was thoroughly ac quainted with Alaska and modes of life and travel in that country, and if he found himself cut off from return by reason of no vessel being at hand, he would not strike down the coast, but would either winter among the Indians or endeavor to make his way into the Chilicot country. Before leaving here Russell told Prof. Before leaving here kussen tous rrot. Davidson that he would take only men who could be relied upon to withstand the hardships of exploration and only those necessary to perform the scientific work. He would depend on miners and Indians for other assistance. Only one man injuned the party from here, he one man joined the party from here, he being Frank Gillette Warner of Hartford, Ct., an expert, who joined the expedition on the recommendation of Prof. Davidson. The latter believed that Lieut. Russell selected the remainder of his party in Seattle, and that they were conveyed to their destination on the cruise up of the Cowyin. HELPING CHINA

European Powers Backing Up the Emperor on His Tottering Throne.

London, Oct. 15.—[By Cable and Asociated Press.] The action of Lord Salisbury in the late conference be-tween the powers, called to consider their attitude toward China, was based on curious facts which are made known for the first time in diplomatic, circles. It appears that before this conference extraordinary representations were made by China to the powers, which showed that the existing Chinese dynasty is in a dangerous position; that an alien dynasty and rebellion or possibly revolution are likely at any time to occur. Disaffected officials realizing the fact. lution are likely at any time to occur. Disaffected officials realizing the fact that the Emperor of China must not necessarily be a member of the royal line, have ambitions reaching to even the throne itself. Consequently the Emperor and his advisers, knowing the existence of this opposition and ambition, have feared to adopt repressive measures, doubting their strength to carry them out.

she was considered to be in the best position to carry out the agreement. Lord Salisbury consequently assured the Chinese viceroy that England would give every aid to the present government in putting down rebellion, if such rebellion occurred through the efforts of the Chinese authorities to punish the authors of the recent outrages on foreigners, or in adopting measures tending to thors of the recent outrages on foreigners, or in adopting measures tending to insure the safety and protection of foreign residents in China. The present dynasty, therefore, is supported by the leading powers of Europe, which practically guarantees it against disaster from any internecine trouble bearing on the foreign question.

Relying upon this assurance China has recently been vigorously removing a number of its high officials, punishing offenders and adjusting claims for compensation. SHANGHAL Oct. 15 .- The Chinese government has consented to pay the sums borrowed fraudulently, or contracted for by an ex-member of the Chinese Le-

Speaking of the opening of lands on the western border the Governor says:
"Unless arrangements are made to throw them open early next spring, in time for settlers to put in crops for the part war, it will mean hardship, destinext year, it will mean hardship, desti-tution, sickness and death among hun-dreds of settlers who have been long on its borders waiting for homes."

Union Veterans' Convention READING (Pa.,) Oct. 15.—At the National Convention of Union veterans to-tional Convention of Union veterans to-day the resolution asking President Harrison to remove Commissioner Raum was postponed indefinitely. Col. Joseph E. Palmer of Brooklyn was elected Na-tional Commander. The convention finally adjourned this afternoon after electing as senior vice-commander. D. E. Coon of San Diego, Cal. A resolution in favor of giving soldiers preference in Government em-ployment was passed.

Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

PORT TOWNSEND, (Wash.,) Oct. 15.—

The explosion of the boilers on the steamer Evangel at Whatcom last night Representatives of the western powers after full discussion of the subject, agreed to accept the situation as it was aligns, deck hands, and Julius Flint, and back up the present Chinese dynasty with their armies and navies. England was chosen to lead the way as For Sale-City Property.

A QUARTER OF A MILLION

Sworn Circulation of The Times at Various Periods Since August, 1890.

STATE CALIFORNIA. SS. COUNTY OF DOS ANGELES, SS.

Personally appeared before me, H. G. Otis, president and general manager of the Times-Mirror Company, and George W. Crawford, foreman of the pressroom of the Los ANGELES TIMES, who, being both duly sworn depose and say that the circulation of the Los ANGELES TIMES on the 5th day of August. 1890, was 6, 750 copies: that the daily average circulation for said month was $6,13 copies; and that the daily average as follows:

The circulation exhibit in detail for September is as follows: tember is as ionows:
For the week ended September 7, 76,020
For the week ended Septimber 14, 60,360
For the week ended Septimber 14, 60,360
For the week ended September 25, 60,100
For the week ended September 3, 10,130
For the 20,478 exded September 30, 10,350 ...275,330 Average per day for the 30 days, 9177 dain since August 5, 1890, the day of the printers strike against The Times. 2327

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT. C. T. Mootry Yesterday Arrested on Two

Charges

Charles T. Mootry, a young drummer who has been soliciting for John Humphrey's & Co., and one or two other instailment houses was arrested yesterday on two charges of embezzlement. His employers claim that he got away with two lots of goods valued at $86 and $41. He was before Justice Owens and pleaded not guilty.

Mootry says that he had been to Pomona on a business trip, and that he left his trunks at that place, to be sent into the city. He said that his wife would go to Pomona last night to find out why his trunks had not been sent, and would bring them back with her this morning, when he would show that morning, when he would show that everything was all right.

The following from The Times Pomona correspondent, received last night, throws some light on the matter:

Since the case opened the attorneys have been busy looking up the records of the Hunsakers, and have secured a great deal of testimony, showing them up in anything but a favorable light, but whether or not they will be able to get it into court remains to be seen. The "Countess" during the time she was living with Benny got hold of a number of letters, which she has turned over to her lawyers. It appears that old Judge Hunsaker has, a wife in San Francisco, and it is stated that he was locked up for awhile in connection with the Visalia affair. Benny, it appears, has, figured in numerous affairs. He was for a time in the employ of the Singer Company, and ran behind in his accounts, which his father was called on to settle. He is also said to have seduced a young woman at Modesto, and she has been writing him, begging to be allowed to come to Los Angeles and live. She says she does not even ask Benny to support her, but only wants to be allowed to live where she can see him occasionally.

Altogether the trial is bringing out a

It is stated upon the authority of Dr. Thomas O'Reilly, a prominent Irish-American, that in the future the management of Irish affairs will be in the hands of a "committee of safety," to consist of five Irish members of Parliament, who will have sole guidance of Irish affairs in Great Britain. This arrangement is designed to obviate the danger to be apprehended from entrusting too much power to one man, an evil which was so conspicuously illustrated in the leadership of Parnell.

It is said that the Goddess Pallas has served notice on Kansas City, which she recently visited in carnival splendor, that before the time for her next year's visit comes around she would like to have the chuck-holes in the streets filled up, and some of the to-let signs pulled off the fronts of a few scores of oig brown-stone-front blocks. The goddess says that the town is too suggestthe abandoned ruins of one of her own ancient cities, and she don't care to have anything more to do with the dead past than she is obliged to. With such a pointed stimulus as that, Kansas City ought to brace up.

THE report that the finest body of Bessemer iron ore in the United States has been located at Newberry, 175 miles east of this city, on the Atlantic and Pacific Rattroad, is calculated to awaken a good deal of local interest. and may eventually lead to the establishment of reduction works here. There is a notable dearth of Bessemer metal. and the United States has hitherto been and other countries at an expense of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 a year. The development of such mines in Southern California would be another long stride toward building up American industries and bringing this corner of the United States to the fore

THE grand jury of Sacramento county has been selected and the Attorney-General has issued a circular to that body, containing special instruc tions outside of those given by Judge Catlin. At this distance it would seem that the pronunciamento of Attorney General Hart was fired at the public rather than at the grand jury. No one can hope that such a jury would indict any of the boodlers who were interested in the scheme of bribery on the tele graph bill, now known as the wastebasket scandal. The only possible hope for such a result would be to transfer the cases from San Francisco to the camp of the boodlers, and thus prevent a conviction. Surely the enforcement of the criminal statutes of this State against criminals with money has be

Ir trade organizations find themselves confronted with a policy of non-intercourse on the part of employers, they may charge it up to their own overt acts as a first cause. Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific Railroad informed Chief Thurston, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, the other day, that the company would not recognize the order and would discharge its employés belonging to it. Mr. Fillmore would not have taken this extreme ground, probably, had he not been satisfied by bitter experience that no middle ground is safe. If his com-pany recognizes the Order of Telegraphers, he knows that it must sub-mit to the dictation of the order or, in other words, must measurably Only a few years back it was a commor practice among employers to encourage organization among their employes, but they soon found that in so doing, they were following the example of Esop's good-hearted man who nursed the frozen snake to life. They got bitten for their trouble. Thus it is that extreme measures on the part of workmen beget extreme measures in return and the war between labor and capital goes on apace.

The Court's Fire Fell Short. The Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision that Judge Wallace of the Superior Court of San Francisco had the power to punish for contempt any witness who refuses to appear and tes tify before the grand jury impaneled in his court, The Supreme Court refuses to pass on the legality of the jury. stating that that question could be raised only by a person indicted by it.

The decision of the Supreme Court if not of so high a tribunal-might be likened unto the opinion of the cele brated Captain Bunsby. The people of California are just as wise now as they were before the high judges "talked through their hats." The cisco grand jury has the richest criminal vein to work that has ever been prospected, not excepting the Tweed case; and yet all that it does may be overturned by this same court through an appeal from some scoundrel who may be indicted by it, but who will not wan mornings, but Monday mornings as to be tried for the crime he is guilty of. well. As between the two papers, If the Supreme Court had passed upon the legality of the jury, there would have been no occasion to spend money if it is illegal, nor dis close to the scoundrels the evidence upon which the indictments would be founded. Of course the grand jury can proceed with its work, and take such testimony as it can get re garding the bribers and boodlers, but that testimony cannot be given to the world except in open court, .and long before such a trial can be had, some petty thief, backed by the boodle gang. may raise the question of the legality of the grand jury, and the Supreme Court may then decide that the action was illegal.

The Supreme Court no doubt felt that it was deciding all of the case which came before it, but the public cannot be made to understand it in that light. Managers of rich corporations, political bosses, bribers and bribe takers, are to be investigated-men who have bribed courts, legislative bodies, in facalmost all classes of public officials, are to be investigated by this grand jury, and it seems only right to the public that all doubtful questions should be decided by the highest judicial tribunal in the State before any important steps are taken.

THE TIMES stands ready, in case of miscarriage of justice in this matter, to join hands with the San Francisco Ex aminer, and other independent journals, and expose to the fullest extent the rascalities by which the majority in the last Legislature was elected, as well as the crimes committed by many of the members while in office. And it will also help to expose every official who may hereafter aid the guilty ones to escape. The people are tired of juggling with justice, and if the machinery o government is so debased, and in league with, or under control of, the criminals, that crime cannot be punished, then some other method will have to be selected which will be effective.

"Kinneloa."

The gum shoes have stealthily got in their work. Information received from Washington is to the effect that, on the 30th ult., the postoffice name of Lamanda Park was changed to Kinneloa. A petition of about twenty people, approved by the postmaster and Congressman Bowers, had been on file since August 12, requesting a change of name to Lamanda. This was denied by the department, and a subsequent re quest to make it Kinneloa, was granted Who made the subsequent request is not stated, but it was probably Mr. Kinney. This is the second attempt that Mr. Kinney has made to thrust the ques tionable honor of his name upon so landmark in Southern California. His irst assault was upon Wilson's Peak, His proposition then was to efface the name of one of the most enterprising and most honorable of the pioneers of Southern California in order to fly from mountain-top this orthographical half-breed of a name, Kinneloa, To those who do not understand the deri vation of the monstrosity, we will say that it is a compound of Kinney and Kanaka. Mr. Kinney has appropriated the tail end of Maunaloa and utilized it as an after-thought for his own patronymic. Thus the Hawaiian volcano comes after Kinney, so to speak, and they both go after poor little Lamanda

A petition signed by about forty resi dents of the ill-fated place has been forwarded to Washington asking that the new name be revoked. It is understood that the citizens are willing to forego the chance of having a money-orde office if they may only escape the designation which has been thrust upon them. As to the railroad company Manager Wade declares that the name of the station shall never be changed to Kinneloa, even if the postoffice is. manda does well enough, and it is well to let well enough alone

One thing is certain: While there is no intention or even desire on the part of the real friends of labor to interfere with indifriends of labor to interfere with indi-ridual development or in matters of purely personal character, there is a growing feeling that it is the duty of every workman to belong to the union of his craft. This feeling is so strong that methods are occasionally used to in-duce men to join the union on the theory that the end justifies the means.

FIREBUGS AT WORK.

Incendiary Blazes at San Bernardino-One Arrest Made.

San Bernardino, Oct. 15.—[By the Associated Press.] During the past few months several mysterious fires have occurred in this city, among them being those at Odd Fellows Hall, at the D street school house and Times-Index office, besides several barns and two ward school houses. Some six weeks ago Sheriff Seymour took the matter in hand personally and finally got on the trail of the supposed incendiary. He kept strict watch on his man, which re-sulted in the arrest last evening of George Jessrang, a painter and deputy county assessor. He is a prominent Odd Fellow and has been generally con-

¿The barn of Deputy Sheriff Holcomb was set on fire last evening. At that fire, while Jessrang was holding the nose that was playing on the fire, he placed under arrest... The most peculiar and suspicious thing about this case is that it is reported that Jessrang at each of the fires has been the man to give the first alarm. There appears, however, to be no motive for this man to start the fires.

DENVER. Oct. 15 .- [By the Associated Press.] Whisky and jealousv were the causes of an awful tragedy early this morning. The notorious Jim Connors and Mike Ryan were drinking in a saloon after midnight and Connors being teased by his friends over the fact that his mistress, a Mrs. Dalcaff, had deserted him for C. J. Finnicum, became so en-raged that he took Ryan and going to Mrs. Dalcaff's rooms, broke open the door and found her with Finnicum.

Finnicum was ordered to dress, after which he was knocked down, bound and gagged. He was then carried to the window and thrown into an alley three stories below. His jaw was broken, both eyes were put out and his skull was laid open till the brain was exposed. He died in a short time.

Conpors and Ryan were arrested. The prominence of the offenders made the case unusually interesting. Ryan, until lately, was one of the officers of the fire department, but is now under the fire department, but is now under arrest for drugging and robbing a man. Connors was first lieutenant of the po-lice, but is now under bonds for trial for attempting to hold up and rob a Rio Grand express train, three years ago.

Today in an interview he said: "As for Russians and their laws they are the worst I ever saw. What with their arrogant police laws, unjust and high-handed exercise of power and the general wretchedness of the people, the country is in a dreadful state. We were five days at St. Petersburg delayed there awaiting an audience with the minister of the interior. We had finally to leave without meeting him. Every day in Russia our passport was taken up and handled until it became actually filthy, while at St. Petersburg we were summoned before the police, but convinced them we were not spies. I may say this, anticipating our report, that in Russia we found the conditions that affect immigration so grave and peculiar in character that we do not feel warranted in speaking of them except in the form of an official report accompanied by corroborative evidence. If I could tell you what we saw in Russia it would not be believed."

morning esion was "Romanism."

Rev. M. I. Meyers of the Primitive M. E. Chirh spoke at length upon "The Preset Position of Romanism." In the court of his remarks he said:

The preset occupant of the chair of St. Peter is a mn in every way worthy of the position, bullscontented. He lives to regain the temoral power lost more than twenty year ago. But if we are not mistaken there is no need to fear any attempt on the part (Homanism to usurp temporal power, eithe in Great Britain or America. For once His Holiness has spoken out with an intelligece and precision that must command repect. His encyclical touches questions the lie at the basis of our social fabre. Which will have to be faced had dealt with by both church and State. But the subject of education is that most likely to form the batie ground between the two great contening parties into which we are naturally diviling ourselves, both in England and America. Make all the churches equal with the State. Give all fair play, and if in the race Romanism can outrun us we shall have only ourselves to blame, and on the head of Protestant Christendom will be the eterral disgrace. It is universally admitted that a new ra of clearer light is bursting upon us. As the light increases Rome move/s in parallel lines and tries hard to show that she is in favor of the rights and liberites of man as man. Reformation or extinction are before her. Red as she is with the blood of the martyrs, we would charitably hope that in the advancing light which will be at upon thrones and rulers and governments, Rome may see her deformation.

In view of tie impending struggle one thing is all bu essential to the success of the said:

In view of tie impending struggle one thing is all but essential to the success of the cause of thith and the speedy realization of all hopes of our common faith—a united Methodism.

Rev. Dr. Fiske of Albion, Mich., spoke on o"Romanism is a Political Power."

Viewed historically the Roman Church appears as the most determined and at times the mightiest political power on the face of the earth. Palliate it as much as we may, hers has been actreer of attempted usurpation of prerogatives. In these United States she has been persistent in demands for a share pro rata of our State school funds for the support of her parochial schools. At the polis and in the courts she has sought to eject the Bible from the public schools, so that under the piea that they were godless, she might destroy them Her priests are known to dictate at political elections. But the political vanity of Romanism is becoming depleted. There are intelligent Catholics in this country, like Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland, who plainly see that if the church is to flourish and get the most of our times as they sweep onward, she must not waste her energies in an unequal fight with enlightened and progressive civilization, but must clasp hands with and make it her all.

Rev. Mr. Nicholas, of the Irish Methodist Engagene.

Rev. Mr. Nicholas, of the Irish Methodist Episcopal Church delivered an address on 'Romanism as a Religious Power.' He admitted at once and without hesitation that there is much Rome, and he desired this admission to modify so far as necessary his further statements. He continued:

Rome is intolerant, but in one direction only; intolerant towards independent thought, but even lenient toward superstition; hence the belief in ecclesiastical miracles. Rome uses expediency and often lets it degenerate into deception. Rome has addressed itself to cardinals, crawing for materialistic realizations of invisible things. Not denying that she in different ages and lands has done good dork, her influence, on the whole has been craving for materialistic realizations of invisible things. Not denying that she in different ages and lands has done good work, her influence, on the whole has been exil. She has led many to skepticism, the natural rebound from superstition. She has produced religion more devotional than moral, and has hindered the progress of humanity. In support of the view that Bome is morfbund may be cited her inability to maintain her relative position in the mission field, to the comparatively small number of adherents among English-speaking, people, her loss of political power, loss of numbers in immigrants to the United States. On the other hand, may be cited her progress in England, her increasing number of churches and schools, universities and religious houses and the zeal of her priests and people. Rome is still vigorous and the conflict may be long, but the issue is not uncertain. Evangelical churches need to have all their wits about them.

At the afternoon session the general wits about them...

At the afternoon session the general topic was "Temperance." Rev. Dr. Mason of the M. E. Church, South, read a paper upon the subject of "The Church and Temperance Reform." He said:

The church must serve the cause of temperance, first by the total abstinence on the part of the ministry and membership of the church from all participation in the liquor track. The church should be satisfied with reching less than the entire abolition of the liquor traffic, but the church should assume no political attitude with respect to prohibition. Rev. J. C. Simmons of the Methodist

Rev. J. C. Simmons of the Methodist Church, South, of Santa Rosa, Cal., was the next speaker against the liquor traffic. He said that Methodists had been firing at a shadow, making great rents in their own houses, while the wolf is destroying our children.

John H. Lile of England held that Wesley's rules obliged ministers to be total abstinence men, and he insisted on that proposition, notwithstanding that Mr. Atkinson, M.P., insisted that Lile was a misquoter of Wesley, and that he prohibited only dram drinking.

Atkinson went on to speak of the Primitive Methodists in connection with "imposters," which immediately stirred up the indignation of delegates from that church, they demanding a retraction and threatening to withdraw from the conference.

Mr. Stephenson and other Weslyans were beseaching Atkinson to withdraw his remarks and apologize, but he bluntly refused to do so, asserting that he had nothing to apologize for; he had not called them imposters; if they did not consume his time he would explain.

As they persisted in the demands for retraction he characterized their "stupidity" in forcible terms, and seeing no chance of restoring harmony, the presiding officer declared the session adjourned, and the delegates passed out after singing the Doxology.

A Good Yield of Berries

[Ontario Record.]
C. D. Adams has finished shipping blackberries for the season, and we are indebted to him for the following inter esting figures on the crop from one acre of land. Six tons were sold, the largest shipment for one day being 900 pounds, on the 29th of August. The proceeds, after deducting the commission on sales cost, transportation and expense of picking, were $400. Mr. Adams allows $75 for his own time and use of team in hauling. That leaves $325 an acre net, which, we believe, cannot be matched in Southern California. We do not publish this as an average result, but it shows what is possible.

Dissolve one pound of aloes in six quarts of water. Pick quarter pail of pepper leaves; pour boiling water on them and mash them with a stick. Then strain off the pepper water and add it to the aloes, when the mixture is ready for use. Apply with a common paint-brush to trees.

The above, which has been tested at Hanson & Co's nurseries at Chino, has been found most effectual, and if properly applied, rabbits will not touch the trees.

HAYMOND IN CONTEMPT.

Judge Wallace Sustained by the Supreme Court.

The San Francisco Grand Jury's Orders Must be Respected.

The Besisien in the Haymond Habeas Corpus Case.

The Main Duestion at Issue Not Passes Fren-The Writ Discharged and the Buismas Remanded-General

The Supreme Court yesterday ren Gered its decision in the case of exparte Edgar D. Haymond on habeas corpus, which, it was generally understood, would determine the validity of the san Francisco grand jury now in ses-cion; but although it denies the petition and orders the prisoner remanded, the main question at issue is not decided. The opinion rendered by the court in larak is as follows: hunk is as follows:

The petitioner was supremand as a witness before the grand jury of San Francisco. He refused to appear and testify upon the ground, that, in his opinion, the grand jury was not a lawful body. For this refusal he was contected of a contempt of the Superior Court and sentenced to fine and imprisonment. Thereupon he sued out this writ, buder which he prays to be discharged from custody.

ment. Thereupon he sued out this writ, burder which he prays to be discharged from castody.

It is not controverted that he must be remanded and the writ discharged, unless he can show that the Superior Court exceeded its jurisdiction in the contempt proceeding. In order to do this petitioner offered in evidence the record of the proceedings of the Superior Court in ordering, selecting, summoning and impaneling the alleged grand jury, from which he contends that it appears the Superior Court was guilty of such grave irregularities and violations of the interest of the superior court was guilty of such grave irregularities and violations of the superior that it appears the superior Court was guilty of such grave irregularities and violations of the fact of grand jury. Without passing upon the question whether the grand jury, before whom the potitioner was summoned to appear, was impaneled in accordance with the provisions of the law relating to that such body has certainly a de facto existence, and this being so, the witness was clearly guilty of contempt in refusing to testify.

When a court having legal authority to impanel a grand jury has sworn and impaneled a competent number of persons as such and, itself recognizing the body so formed as a lawful grand jury, charges it with the duties of a grand jury, and it is engaged in the performance of such duties, a person summoned to testify before it cannot raise the question of the legality of the grand jury to be tested in the modes provided by law by those who may have an interest in the question.

The petitioner, on his own showing, has been regularly and properly convicted, and must be remanded.

Writ discharged and prisoner remanded.

SUPREME COURT PROCEEDINGS. At yesterday's session of the Supreme Court the following cases were by stipulation ordered to stand submitted upon the briefs already on file therein: Cal-ifornia Southern Hotel Company vs. Callendar; Cerf vs. Pfleging; in re estate of Groom vs. Almstead; First National Bank of San Louis Obispo vs. Bruce et al.; Cross vs. Reed; Oaks vs. Oaks, and Campbell, executor, vs. West

LILLIE BAILEY ACQUITTED.

In Department Six yesterday, the trial of the case against Frankie Le Claire, alias Lillie Bailey, an Alameda street courtesan, charged with having stolen $3.70, which belonged to Abram Ruiz, from A. J. Monroy, to whom it had been intrusted, on the night of August 25 last, was resumed before Judge McKinley and a jury, and occupied their attention all day. The prosecution, after recalling some of its ecution, after recalling some of its witnesses, closed its ease, and five wit witnesses, closed its case, and five witnesses were examined for the defense for the purpose of showing that Monroy had given the money to the defendant. The woman was then called to testify on her own behalf, but as the Court refused to allow her to have an interpreter, on the ground that she could speak English well enough, in spite of the fact that her attorney, J. M. Brooks, Esq. voluntarily took the stand to, show that she could not, she was withdrawn and the case was closed. was withdrawn and the case was closed. The matter was argued vociferously by counsel for both sides and submitted to the jury at 5 o'clock, that body returning half an hour later with a verdict of acquittal, whereupon the defendant was discharged.

MORRISON CORS FREE.
United States Commissioner Van Dyke yesterday rendered a decision in the case against J. B. Morrison, charged with having impersonated a deputy United States marshal recently, order-ing the defendant discharged and the ing the defendant discharged and the matter dismissed.

The ground of the dismissal was that the complaint was made on information and belief unsupported by any affidavit as to what are the grounds of said information and belief by the affiant. Morrison's attorney objected to the complaint and the Commissioner sustained the objection on authority of a decision of the Supreme Court of California, it being the rule of practice in the United States courts that in such matters of complaint and the like the practice shall be the same as that of practice shall be the same as that of the State in which the court is held. It is not believed that a new com-plaint will be filed against Morrison, as it is understood that the United States has no evidence that he used his repre-sentation as a deputy United States marshal to defraud, and that it is no offense to impersonate a Unined States marshal or other official except where such is coupled with an effort to de-fraud, in which case it is the impersonation that gives the United States jurisdiction over the offente; otherwise it would be a case of false pretenses, cognizable only by the State authorities. DAN WAS REMANDED.

An old man, named Dan Mahoney, appeared before Judge Shaw yesterday with his counsel, A. J. King, Esq., and applied to the Court for his discharge from the City Jail on a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that he had been given a "floater" and rearrested after given a "floater" and rearrested after the sentence, fifty days, had expired. In accordance, however, with the opinion of the Supreme Court in ex-parte Vance, Judge Shaw denied the petition and remanded the petitioner.

Judge Smith yesterday denied the motion for a new trial in the case against Ah Sing, which came up for hearing on appeal from the Police Court, and affirmed the judgment of the court below.

In Department Two yesterday a mo tion to set aside the default of the de-fendants in the case of W. A. Field vs. A. C. Fellers, a suit to foreclose a mortgage, was argued before Judge Clark, by whom it was ordered to be submitted on briefs

THE FAIR SEASON.

The season of fairs is at hand. Next Monday evening the Catholic orphan's fair will open in Armory Hall to continue one week. Early in November the chrysanthemum fair, which will be far more gorgeous this year than ever before, will attract a great throng of pleasure seekers and beauty lovers, not only from the city but from all the sub urban towns; and the month following the W.R.C. fair, this year under the management of the Stanton Corps, will hold a share of public attention. AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Owens entertained a dozen of their friends at their home on South Pearl street last Wednesday evening. The house was lavishly decorated with choice flowers, and the even rated with choice flowers, and the evening was devoted largely to music, as most of the guests were musicians. The hostess sang several selections during the evening, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Brenner, and Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Schallert each sang in their accustomed pleasing style. Mrs. Owens and Baron Rogniat played a plano and organ duet which met with much favor, Supper was served in the dining-room, which was a literal conservatory of roses in all tints and shades. An elabotate menu was spread, French dishes rate menu was spread, French dishes predominating—salads, delicious ices and rare old champagne from Baron Rogniat's stock of French wines. It was after midnight before the guests could bring themselves to the task of saying good-night.

There were present Baron and Baroness Rogniat, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schallert, Judge Beatty of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Gibbons, J. H. Brenner, Judge and Mrs. Glassell and Forest

William Q. Judge Tells What Theosophy Is.

Some Very Strange Theories Advanced by the Lecturer.

Why Some Clubs are Successful and Others Not.

Let the Debate on the Irrigation Projection Come Off—Long List of Brevities -New Brick Business

William Q. Judge of New York delivered a lecture on Theosophy in the Universalist vestry on Wednesday evening. The audi-ence was of fair size and distinguished for Its intelligence.

In entering upon his subject the speaker said that "Theosophy is common sense."

He said thatevery people on the globe have their peculiar form of worship, and that their religious belief rests upon the supposed existence of some unseen spiritual power.

The Indian, the Christian, the Hindoo and the Chinese all worship a being who is supposed to rule heaven and earth, and their bellef in the main as to the attiributes of this being, in all essentials, is the same. They differed only in the mode of worship. Theosophy is a search after the cause of man, of his inner self, his attributes, his evolution from the universe of nature, his present and his past, his destiny, his hereafter.

eyolution from the universe of nature, his present and his past, his destiny, his hereafter.

Man is not only a dual being, but theosophy resolves him into six or seven different beings, or states of existence, before his present life, during life and after his now existing life. There is no such thing as death; death is but a name for another life. Without this belief shall take root in civilization, the present wave of materialism which is sweeping over the world will engulf us, and man will go down.

The outward visible man is not the man; it is only the material organism through which the real man who is behind this organism, works. The brain is not, as physiologists have contended these hundred years, the organ of the mind, but only the instrument through which mind works. The mind of man everywhere is in constant rapport, communication, sympathy, and linked together by the unseen.

The world is one great brotherhood, and one of the cardinal tenet of Theosophy is jocement this brotherhood introughout the world.

Among the thousand religions in the world, each religion believes it has the truth.

He of course dwelt some what upon the World, each reagent somewhat upon the doctrine of re-incarnation, but as it is a subject which requires some length to discuss, space does not permit. Re-incarnation is a belief that every human being has lived before this life, and that we shall again live upon earth in some other form after this life. The phenomena of genius was instanced, and heredity surely does not account for genis.

was instanced, and heredity surely does not account for gents.

Hypnotism has demonstrated that the human life can be seperated into three different states: that which is done in the first state cannot be known to the second; and what is done in the second cannot be known to the third state, but what is done in all the succeeding states is known to the prior. or first state: proving this, one of the important doctrines of Theosophy and esotric Buddhism.

It ever asserted that riches are given to Buddhism.

It ever asserted that riches are given to the rich as a trust, to assist the downtrodden and needy and that he that used these riches for selfash purposes would in another life suffer the direct consequences.

Mr. Judge is vice-president of the American section of the Theosophical Society and general secretary of the American section, and president of the Agen local branch. At the conclusion of the lecture he answered aumerous questions asked him by the audience.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS tions exist to so large an extent as they do here, it is interesting to study why some fourish and grow while others lose their footing and soon cease to exist. Without attempting to go into the subject in detail, entire harmony among the members may be said to be the one essential element of success, without which no social organization can hope to get along. Hence one need not go far to observe why several of Pasalent's clubs, whose aim is either the cultivation of outdoor sports or the enjoyment of matters purely social, have stood the strain, and each year grow stronger, while bthers that are divided into all sorts of cliques, and where dissensions run rife, are all broken up, so to speak, and bid fair to come to an untimely end. If people only could control their individual prejudices, likes and dislikes for the good of the common cause, all would go well.

BRING ON THE DEBATE.

BRING ON THE DEBATE. There is considerable discussion going on just now on the matter of including Pasadena in an irrigation district. There could hardly be a better way to enlighten the public than by helding. public than by holding a debate at the Operahouse in accordance with Mr. Brown's suggestion. Certainly every citizen ought to thoroughly post himself on this subject and no one could attend such a debate as that proposed without absorbing all the desired information. Let the debate be held. He claimed that one life is too short to acquire much knowledge, that it is an absolute necessity to live several lives in order to reach perfection.

It does not seem that they have been telling the truth about Wales. He is not as impecunious as represented, and sources:

"The exact financial position of the Prince of Wales," says Labouchere, ed-itor of London Truth, in an article on itor of London Truth, in an article on English Royalty,' which he contributes to the October Forum, 'is not known. There have been rumors that he is greatly in debt; but I question their correctness. When the Prince came of age, he became possessed of the acommulations realized during his minority from the Duchy of Cornwall, A portion of them was expended in the purchase of the Sandringham estate, and the remainder became his. With this nest egg, with an income of £10,00 for his wife, a separate provision for his chilwife, a separate provision for his children, and with Mariborough House kept up for him at the public cost, there seems no reason why his expenditure should outrun his means. His hospitalities are not greater than those of the French President, who, with less than half his income, does not get into debt."

SAN BERNARDINO.

[TIMES agency at the Stewart Hotel news-stand, where subscriptions, advertisements and news items may be left.] San Bernardino has a firebug and has him safely lodged in jail. The culprit is George Jessrang. Jessrang has been quite a prominent personage in San Bernardino. and has for some time held the office of deputy county assessor. In addition to holding this office, he is the secretary of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, and has holding this office, he is the secretary of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, and has held a high social position. But by his own folly he has brought himself to his present unenviable position.

Late Wednesday evening fire was discovered in the barn of Frank Holcomb, on the extreme outskirts of the city. The fire department promptly responded, but their efforts were of no avail and the building was completely destroyed, although Mr. Holcomb's horse and buggy were got out.

Mr. Holcomb discovered the flames before they had gained much headway, but after giving the alarm confined his attentions to the man whom he saw running away. He gave chase, and after a lively run captured the man, who proved to be Jessrang his neighbor and former friend. Jessrang was turned over to the police and was locked up. This morning he was arraigned before Justice Merchant and his examination was set for tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

Jessrang has been under suspicion for some time andit is said that at least twelve fires that have occurred of late, are now traceable to him. There are many very suspicious circumstances which point to him as the firebug who has long mystified the police and caused a feeling of dread to come over many of the residents of this city.

He was the first man to discover the recent fire in Odd Fellows' Hall, and also the fire in the schoolhouse and over the Times-Index office.

By the advice of his attorneys Jessrang positively refused to talk. He would neither deny nor admit the serious charge placed against him.

Many friends called to see him at the jail today, but he denied them an interview. His preliminary examination will draw a large crowd today.

POMONA.

A Serious Accident to the Son of Senator McComas.

Rallo at the Congregational Church-Personal and General.

[The TIMES conveys the news of the world to Pomona 24 hours in advance of the San Francisco papers. The Pomona branch office and agency is at Armour's Pharmacy, Second street, where advertisements, orders for the paper and news items are received.]

What might have been and may yet prove what might have been and may yet prove a serious accident occurred yet erday to Senator McComas's son, aged 13. He thought he would surprise his parents at breakfast by coming into the room from the outside door instead of from the stairs leading to his room, so climbed upon the porch roof to descend upon a pepper tree that stood beside it. The fog had dampened the roof so be slived and cell to the brick that shoot designed. The rog had dampened the roof, so he slipped and fell to the brick pavement below, a distance of about twelve feet, striking upon his knees and face. No bones were broken, but his face is badly bruised and he is not able to speak. It is found to the root of the bruised and he is not able to speak. It is feared that the concussion may have injured his brain or spine, but the attending physician says that there is probably no permanent injury.

FAILED TO MEET PAYMENTS.

About forty days ago Scott Way of San José purchased, through Overton & Firey, from M. L. Sparks, twenty acres of land, ten acres of it in oranges, one year old. from M. L. Sparks, twenty acres of land, ten acres of it in oranges one year old, for $10.000, paying $1000 down, the second payment to be in thirty days, Also of Messrs. Day & Hall a tract of five acres set to oranges one year, for $4000, paying $500 down. Finding that his papers in the East upon the strength of which he made the purchase had been made, had declined so in value that he could not negotiate them at present without sustaining greater loss than would result from throwing up the purchase here, he asked those making the sales to accept the property at his loss. Knowing that the property well worth the prices at which it was sold, they took it back, and the papers were destroyed yesterday.

ACCIDENTAL REUNION.

ACCIDENTAL REUNION. ACCIDENTAL REUNION.

A strange reunion of people long separated took place here Tuesday night. It was brought about as follows; Last March when H. Eno went to the Assessor's office to see about his taxes he asked Assessor C. G. Kellogg where he was from, and stated that he married a Miss Kellogg back East. About thirty-one years ago one of her brothers came west, and since that time nothing has been heard from him, although every effort had been made to find him. Advertisements have been inserted in various newspapers, postmasters have been rious newspapers, postmasters have been written to in all parts of the country, but all to no avail. About fifteen years ago the family thought they had a clew, and it was carefully followed up, only to result in disappointment. The family finally settled to the conclusion that he was dead and nowined him as one gone before. When mourned him as one gone before. When asked what was his brother-in-law's name, he replied that it was William. "I think I have seen him, Mr. Eno," said Mr. Kellogg, 'Through inquiry, C. G. Kellogg learned from Mr. Eno all that he could concerning his wife's family history and the names of the members of the family, but kept his own counsel as to how he was going to make use of it. A few days ago Uncle Bill, as he is called, came back to Pomona from Montana where he has been mining. C. G. Kellogg went at once to see him, and asked about his family. Uncle Bill said that he did not care to speak of them, for he knew nothing of them, had not heard from them in thirty years and he was dead to them and they to him. Since leaving home he had spent most of his time mining, wandering up and down the Coast. Several times he had struck it rich, but had as often lost all, and was again down to bed rock. He did not care to have his family know where he was, if it were possible. "Was not your father's name Philander!" asked Mr. Kellogg. He then repeated the name of the brothers and isters—three of each; but Uncle Bill showed no interest until the name of the youngess! sister, Carrie. was mentioned, when his eyes filled with tears and he exclaimed, "That was my pet sister." When told that his sister Carrie was here in Pomona he would not believe it. Mr. Kellogg then visited Mrs. Eno and told her that her long, lost brother had been found and was in the city. Tuesday evening Mrs. Eno was brought to King's Hotel and met Uncle Hill and they recognized each other almost mourned him as one gone before. When asked what was his brother-in-law's name ught to King's Hotel and met Uncle was brought to King's Hotel and met Uncle Bill, and they recognized each other almost instantly, though Mrs. Eno was but a girl of about 15 years of age and William Kel-logg about twice that age. Brother and sister are very happy over the reunion, and Uncle Bill went yesterday to make his home at Mrs. Eno's. He worked for some time in the Chino market in Pomona, and no doubt sold meat to his sister upon more than one occasion, totally ignorant of the fact that he was dealing with one near and dear to he was dealing with one near and dear to ne was dealing with one hear and dear to him. Unice Bill is generous, large-hearted and honest as the day is long. He is still quite stout and hearty. Mrs. Enois a most estimable lady, with a large circle of friends. The friends of the old man rejoice with him that in his last "find" he has struck it rich."

About twenty-five people have started from Nebraska for this place to locate in the Nebraska Colony between here and Chino. Complaint has been brought against the Chinese laundry for operating within the portion of the city prohibited by a city or-dinance.

Quite a number of the young people went to Glendora Wednesday evening to a social given by the Independent Order of Good Templars.

Mrs. Luitweiler of Pasadena was in the city this week looking after property she has here. She intends adding some improvements to her bouse here.

Cards are out inviting friends to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lamb on Saturday evening, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

There was a union meeting last evening at the Baptist Church of the Y. P. S. C. E's. of the various churches. There was a large attendance and an enjoyable time was had.

The 'rally" at the Congregational Church Wednesday evening was largely attended and a good time was had. Music was furnished by the church and chorus choirs, and addresses were given by Rev. Frary, Messrs. Shaw, Lewis and others.

The concert to be given at the operahouse tonight will consist of eleven selections of plano and vocal music and recitations. Misses Bertha Penning. Josephine Williams, Messrs. Wilhelm Stoll and William Puttte, all of Los Angeles, are to be the participants.

A pleasant musical event took place at Glendora Wednesday evening under the auspices of Glendora Good Templars' Lodge. A delegation from five different lodges from surrounding sister cities was in attendance and Pomona was not behind in courtesy; some of her favorité gallants and their fair companions were conveyed thither by bus and carriage.

Some of Pomona's leading talent assisted in the programme. Noteworthy was the contraito solo by Miss Gertrude Newerf, the duet by Miss Newerf and Mr. F. H.

REFFELL THE BURGLAR.

He will be Arraigned Today—Another Case Against Him. J. C. Reffell, the high-toned burglar-who was arrested day before yesterday, will appear before Justice Owens today for arraignment. Three complaints were filed against him yesterday and his chances for a long term of years in State's prison are good.

Yesterday Detective Auble succeeded in finding a fine $200 gold watch that was stolen by Reffell in San Bernardino on the 9th inst. The fellow sold it in this city on the 10th, the day after his exploit in San Bernardino. Reffell is a very cool customer, and undoubtedly has had considerable expeundoubtedly has had considerable experience in crime. He takes his arrest very easily, and has apparently made up his mind to plead guilty, knowing that he has not the ghost of a chance to escape. Yesterday afternoon he was taken oxt to be photographed. At first he objected very vigorously, and before he left the station declared that no picture of himself should be taken. On arrival at the gallery, however, Detective Auble gave him to understand that no foolishness would be tolerated, and, finding that his bluff would not work he gave in very gracefully. A good likeness of the fellow was secured, and when the pictures are sent out it is more than likely that more will be learned concerning him. learned concerning him.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

The Championship Settled Last Night— Tyler the Winner. Over 500 people witnessed the bil-liard tournnment last evening at the Royal, when Colby and Tyler met over the green cloth to decide the championship of Southern California, each having won six games and lost one. Tyler made a strong bid for the diamond medal by running 18. Colby played out of form and Tyler turned the first fifty points with a lead of twenty-nine. Colby then began to play billiards and gradually overhauled Tyler, finally passing him on the eighty-fourth point amid the wild cheers of his supporters. It was then even up for a little while, but Colby got up to 94 with Tyler at 87. Tyler then got the balls in position and made-eleven fine points. Colby made three and missed and Tyler with two to go ran it out and won amid intense excitement and much cheering.

Krebs has yet two games to play to decide second money between him, and Colby. fifty points with a lead of twenty-nine Colby.

Sheldon Borden, an attorney of this city, has challenged the winner and a match game will be played between them so Knocked Out the Bruiser Detective Auble made another cleve capture yesterday. A day or two ago the police authorities received a tele gram from the Chief of Police of Sacgram from the Chief of Police of Sacramento, asking them to look out for Harry Brown, a tough negro who was wanted in that city for felony. Brown was formerly in this city, and was known to the officers. Yesterday morning Detective Auble spotted his man, and invited him to go to the station. Brown, who claime to be a prize-fighter, intimated that he did not propose to do anything of the sort, and showed fight. The contest was short, but decisive, and before he really realized the situation, he found himself lying on the ground and the officer sitting on his neck. The prisoner was then handcuffed and taken to the police station, where he will be to the police station, where he will be detained until an officer can come down down; no further payment for 6 and 10 years.

Over $400,000 worth of this class of land has been sold by the undersigned in Mentone and Redlands in the past two years in 30 and 20-acre tracts, and ALL to settlers, most of which is now planted and has hand-some residences thereon.

The demand for land at MENTONE has increased very materially since last, winter on account of not having any frost there to injure the most delicate shoot on the orange tree.

The demand will be greater now than ever before, for the reason that the recent storms the demand will be greater now than ever before, for the reason that the recent storms did not do one dollar's damage.

The formation of the mountains around MENTONE is such that it is almost entirely free from the north and east winds.

The demand will be greater now than ever before, for the reason that the recent storms did not do one dollar's damage.

The formation of the mountains around MENTONE' is such that it is almost entirely free from the north and east winds, it being about 2,000 feet above sea level, and about 80 miles from the ocean, the fogs do not drift in the air—is cool in summer and warm and dry in winter.

The budded orange tree, strawberry, guava, apricot, peach and fig, bear fruit at MENTONE first year after planting. The olives grown on three-year-old trees received first premium at the State Citrus Fair this year.

Location. Mentone is the highest station on the Santa Fe Belt R. R., Il miles from San Bernardino, only 3 miles east of the business center of Redlands. The Motor line and Southern Pacific are now preparing to extend their roads to Mentone; they are within three miles of there at present. The oranges, lemons, olives and all other fruits grown at MENTONE and vicinity are the best and highest priced in the market, as there is no black smut, no scale bug or fruit pestsof any kind. There are orange, lemon and about all other kinds of fruits and vines there, more than 20 years old. Some of the orange trees bearing 18 boxes to the tree, and some of the lemons 20 boxes. The prettiest Hotel in Southern California is now being built at MENTONE. It will be lighted with incandescent lights.

Chance for Contract Work. Any settler at MENTONE will have the privilege of paying one-fourth the price of his land in contract work or team work by the day, provided he has an agreement to that effect inswriting at time of purchase.

Barley Land Free of Charge. The Mentone Company will furnish settlers first-class Barley Land on which to raise grain, free of charge.

Where is East Whittier?

It is 14 miles southeast of Los Angeles and is bounded on the north and east by the Puente Hills, that break the cold north winds in winter and the dreaded Santa Anas in the summer; on the south by an unbroken stretch of beautiful valley and plain to the ocean 16 miles away, which is plainly visible from the upper portions of the East Whittier Tract; on the west by Whittier and the Lower San Gabriel Valley, the outlook on the west, southwest and south taking in the whole sweep of country from Los Angeles to Santa Ana.

What is East Whittier?

It is the old Ramirez Ranch subdivided into 5 and 10-acre tracts with a soil of great depth and richness that for years has raised great crops of wheat, barley and corn without any water. A region practically frostless, where heliotrope grows the year round. It is now the most desirable acreage property in Southern California for homeseekers. The property will not be sold to speculators, only to those who will at once improve it. These lands will soon be offered at $200 per acre; some extra choice locations at $250 per acre, with water, You buy the land and water together and not simply a water right, and you get the finest kind of both. THE VETO MILL.

Mayor Hazard Puts in a Big Day's Work.

Four Ordinances Returned to the Council Without Approval.

Accompanied by Messages Setting Forth the Reasons Therefor.

The Electric Light and Power Franchise the Cross Electric Railroad Franchise and the Seventh-street Opening Not Satisfactory

Mayor Hazard was busy during the greater part of yesterday in his private office, and the result of his labors was made known late in the afternoon, when three veto messages were filed with the City Clerk.

ELECTRICAL FRANCHISES.

The first message is on electrical franchises, returning unapproved the ordinances granting franchises to the Los Angeles Lighting Company and the Consolidated Electric Railroad Company, and is as follows:

Consolidated Electric Railroad Company, and is as follows:

To the honorable the Council of the city of Los Angeles: I return herewith both the ordinances granting a franchise to the Los Angeles Electric Company, for erecting poles, stringing wires and constructing conduits for the transmission of electricity and electrical energy through the city of Los Angeles, and an ordinance granting the same right to the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company, unapproved because these ordinances grant for "twenty-live years from the date hereof, the right to erect and maintain poles upon and to run wires over and along the public streets, alleys and places in the city of Los Angeles" without reserving any right whatever on the part of the Council, or any other department of the city government, to require these poles and wires removed and placed underground or enclosed in insulated cables when the public necessity and safety demand it. The improvements being made in electrical appliances are such that in all probabilities it will be entirely practical and within the reach of all these companies to place these wires in an underground conduit, or insulated cables, enclosing an unlimited number of wires, and as we do not charge them any bonus whatever for these valuable franchises, I think the time has arrived when such reservation should be made in all franchises granting the right to erect poles and run and maintain wires along the streets of our city for a long number of years, and I suggest that we begin now.

Respectfully, etc..

HENRY T. HAZARD, Mayor,

Los Angeles, October 15, 1891. CROSS ELECTRIC ROAD. The ordinance granting A. P. Cross

a franchise for an electric railroad is returned unapproved, with the follow ing message;

To the honorable the Council of the city of Los Angeles: I herewith return the ordinance granting A. P. Cross and assigns a Los Angeles: In nerewith return the ordinance granting A. P. Cross and assigns a franchise to construct a street railway along certain streets, unapproved, because it provides that said street car line "shall be laid as nearly equidistant from the center of the street as possible," thereby locating the track across the Macy-street bridge. That there may be no mistake on this point, it further reads: "For further description of the streets over which this franchise is granted, reference is made to the map filed with the petition therefor." On an examination of the map filed with the petition, it will be seen that the line of the road passes over the center of the Macy-street bridge. Not only that, but the provisions of the Civil Code (sec. 498) requires persons obtaining franchises "to construct their tracks on those portions of the street designated in the ordinance granting the right (and Macy street is designated,) which must be as near as possible in the middle thereof." Now, under the provisions of this law, it becomes the duty of Mr. Cross, or his assigns, to construct the tracks along the center of the streets, neprovisions of this law, it becomes the duty of Mr. Cross, or his assigns, to construct the tracks along the center of the streets, necessitating the use by them of the Macystreet bridge. They have no right under this franchise to go anywhere else; this ordinance should be amended so that no doubt whatever shall exist regarding their right to the use of this bridge, which should not be permitted. be permitted.

It is an easy matter to say that Mr. Cross agrees not to use the bridge (by this ordinance and the law he is required to if he builds any road,) but what assurances have we that those to whom he may assign his franchise will feel constrained to violate the law and the ordinance because of an implied understanding with Mr. Cross whereby he agrees not to use the bridge, which agreement, if any, and I don't know that he ever made any, ought to be clearly that he ever made any, ought to be clearly embodied in the ordinance and nothing left that he ever made any, ought to be clearly embodied in the ordinance and nothing left to doubt or uncertainty. His agreement would not necessarily bind them, if he ever made one on the subject, and this case furnishes an example of the facility with which these rights are assigned. The petition for the franchise is made by John Cross, and in the ordinance the name of John is erased and the letters "A. P." substituted therefor. The ordinance is given to A. P. Cross, and John Cross, who originally applies for the ordinance, goes on the bond of A. P. Cross, who gets it. I cite this only to show the necessity of inserting in the ordinance itself all that your honorable body may deem necessary to protect the right of the city in that behalf, because the persons we are called on to deal with are usually not the person to whom the grant is made, and they look to the terms of the ordinance for the measure of their rights in the premises and nowhere else. the premises and nowhere else.

Los Angeles, October 15, 1891. SEVENTH STREET MATTER.

His Honor has not forgotten the com missioners, and in returning the ordi-nance for the opening and widening of Seventh street pays his respects in the following brief but pointed message:

To the honorable the Council of the city of Los Angeles: I return herewith the ordinance ordering the work of opening and widening Seventh street proceeded with and appointing commissioners, etc., unap

I have heretofore given to your honorable body my reasons in full why street commissioners should not be appointed without any limitation whatever as to the amount they shall be permitted to charge for their services, nor the amount of service they are authorized to perform. Under this ordinance they determine how long they will be engaged in opening the street, how much they will charge, and when the money is collected in they pay themselves out of it. This unusual method of doing business has been subject matter of abuse heretoforce, and it should not be again permitted to the amount they are permitted to charge in each case, and if they don't like it they are not obliged to accept the appointment.

Respectfully, etc.,

HENRY T. HAZARD, Mayor.

ALL SHOWED UP IN COURT.

viz., Guy Longstreet, Pat Longstreet, the two McDougal boys, and Misses May Thompson and Cora Fairman, to the suit present and each of them are defendants. It will be remembered that these young people are the ones who were in the room on the night of the alleged disturbance, and were arrested by Sergeant Jeffries as soon as Mrs. Pothoff wore her whip out and opened the door.

When Jeffries made the arrest it was understood that Mrs. Pothoff would go to the police station the next day and make formal complaint against the crowd, but when daylight came around she had cooled off and decided to drop the matter. But the officer did not pro pose to have the keeper of a lodging-house make a tool of the police, so he swore to a complaint against the whole outfit, and that is what took them to the Police Court yesterday afternoon.

His Honor had them arranged in single file in front of the bench, and gave them a chance to enter their pleas.

Each one pleaded not guilty, and their trial was set for Monday at 2 p. m.

Large San Francisco Manufacturing Firm Going Out of Business.

Tired of Dictation from Labor Organiz tions, F. S. Chadbourne & Co. will Retire and Shut Down Their Factory.

The San Francisco Examiner of Tues day prints the following, which speaks for itself:

As a result of the strike of upholsterer As a result of the strike of upholsterers and furniture workers against F. S. Chadbourne & Co.; that firm will close out its stock and go out of business by January 1. In speaking of the causes which have led up to this determination: F. S. Chadbourne expressed himself as being sorry for his employés, many of whom had been with him for twenty years. Hehad no objection to the men belonging to any organization, but when the demands of their union compelled them to put him in a position di-but when the demands of their union compelled them to put him in a position directly opposed to the needs of his business and the demands of the public, his customers, he could do no less than close his factory and seek other fields for his capital. "I had been in the nine-hour movement three months," said Mr. Chadbourne, "and found that it did not work, My store was open an hour after the men quit work, and my porters, draymen and others were on hand ten hours a day to fill orders, but everything was at a standstill because the upholsterers were away.

everything was at a standstill because the upholsterers were away.

On Saturday at noon, five weeks ago, I notified my men that, commencing the following Monday morning, they would have to work ten hours a day, as it was absolutely necessary to go back to the old time. I offered to pay them the same for the nine hours as they had previously demanded and received, and an additional price for the extra hour,

They were ordered out by their unions, They came to the store the next morning and worked through the day until night, when they were paid off, each one of them receiving 90 cents extra pay, 30 cents for each extra hour of the three days.

"They stated that they did not wish to quit, but had to do so as their unions had ordered it. They left their tools and benches behind them, three-fourths of them being yet in my store.

"On Thursday I commenced to receive new men, and have since continued to receive tiem in every department. With the aid of the police I have been able to get the men to their homes at night unmolested, but sometimes lose two or three, whose places are quickly filled by others.

"I have every sympathy for the workingmen and those who have been in my employ, but will not have their walking delegates, and men I do not know, come to dictate to me what I shall do. I am heartily sick of all this, and have concluded to close the business.

"I have been in business for twenty.five sick of all this, and have concluded to close the business.

"I have been in business for twenty-five years. For the last ten years it has not been a question of how many men I have been employing, but a question of how many I have been working for. My capital can be employed in other channels. The worries of business are enough for a man, without the people he employs trying to throw him down. This is the last straw that breaks the camel's back. I will close out by January 1, and never again enter into business where I will have to employ labor. I have studied this matter carefully, and though much averse to this step, had to conclude that I could never know what was coming next. I am fond of San Francisco, and may continue to live here, but I am tired of labor organizations. I would rather see a laborer get $5 than $1 a day, but supply and demand regulate those things."

The Question, Who is First in War and Peace?

The Bold Southron Yields to His Stern Northern Brother.

A Candid Admission from the Lone-Star State.

Stop Boasting and Gracefully Accord the North the Honor Due a Brave and Spirited People."

"One of the cardinal faults of the American character," writes the editor of the Texas Iconoclast, who appears to have fought on the losing side in the War of the Rebellion, "is a propensity to brag. Brother Jonathan's egotism long since passed into a proverb. In no section of this land of the alleged free and home of the ism does the blowhard blow longer and louder and with less excuse than in the South. We are the people; the nonpareil: there are none like us under the sun! From the empyrean we look down upon common humanity, talk turgid, and swell up with the vain glory of a young turkey cock with his first tail feathers Perhaps it were well for us to drop the King Cambyses vein long enough to inquire what we are chanticleering about. What have we ever done that entitles us to assume airs of superior ity? Nothing in God's great world; absolutely nothing. We are so far in the rear of civilization that we foolishly imagine ourselves to be in the van with the whole world behind us, strug gling desperately to catch up! We speak sneeringly of the 'Yankees,' yet the same despised Yankees are our guardians and tutors, even our protectors. Without them we were but a lost calf running foolishly about in circles until some political prowler lassoed us and led us to the shambles.

"Take the South proper, south of the thirty-fifth parallel—Virginia and Ken-tucky, Tennessee and North Carolina are southern only in name—and how will it compare with New England? Here we have a veritable Eden, broad and fertile savannahs, a land of peren-nial summer, the richest in natural re-sources in the western world. New En-gland is a cold and sterile land, where nature is ever at fierce war with man. Yet New England was developed a cen-tury ago. Her rocky hillsides were made to blossom like the Vale of Tempe: her mountains were ransacked for ore her forests transformed into stately her forests transformed into stately ships, or still more imposing buildings; the hum of the factory rose in city and hamlet, and the rich commerce of a world rolled in mighty waves over her wharves. Now we are stretching out our hands imploringly to that storm-cursed, frost-girt land, praying that she will send brain and brawn to develop our rich mines, utilize our vast forests, build our railways, and teach our children the magic art of industry; that dren the magic art of industry; that she will do for us what we have been solves. We look to the Yankees for everything; for our machinery, our very household utensils, our capital, our books, our higher education; for brains to plan and skill to direct our great en-

"While New England has been making reapers and sewing machines, spin-ning jennies and telegraphs, we have been making foolish stump speeches and moonlight whisky. While New been making foolish stump speeches and moonlight whisky. While New England has been breeding statesmen, scientists and poets, we have been breeding 'yaller niggers' and Cheap John politicians! We cannot boast half a dozen men born south of the thirty-fifth parallel in the South proper whom historians a century hence will consider worthy of a dozen lines. We have not produced a dozen books worth burning; in the field of invention we have done little more than the red Inhave done little more than the red Indians who so long lurked in our for ests.

"But if we can neither work nor think we are at least incomparable fighters! Behold the recent civil war and how we did amaze the world! Amaze it we cer-tainly did, but not in the manner we would like our children believe. When-ever the civil war is mentioned the South mounts to the top rail of the for what reason it were difficult for an unprejudiced critic to discover. It is now more than a quarter of a century since Lee's surrender; high time surely that the foolish falsehood that for four tears the South entered years the South contended against five-fold odds was relegated to desuctude in-stead of being ostentatiously paraded by 'able editors' and aspiring Ciceros on by able curve all occasions.

"Such fables but make us the laugh-world; cause our north-"Such fables but make us the laughing stock of the world: cause our northern brethern to feel like thrashing us again instead of helping to develop our country. It is a fact patent to all the world, a fact that no honest man possessing any knowledge of the subject will dispute, that the backbone of the Southern Confederacy was broken, that the 'cause' was hopelessly and irretrievably lost in 1883, when the Confederate armies aggregated between 600,000 and 700,000 fighting men—almost, if not altogether, equal in point 800,000 and 700,000 fighting men-almost, if not altogether, equal in point of numbers to the Federal forces. It was in 1863 that Vicksburg fell, that Grant tore the Confederacy in twain, that Lee's magnificent army was rolled back a wreck from Gettysburg. With those reverses the southern people be-came discouraged, and thenceforth gave to the new Government but a half-hearted support. Naturally the Con-federate armies dwindled, while the Federal Government continued to push Federal Government continued to push men to the front to hold the conquered territory and overawe the people, as well as to speedily crush the decimated legions of Lee and Johnston and end the war. Practically it was man to man in 1863 when the Confederacy received its death blow. Furthermore, we were acting chiefly on the defensive. We were in our own mountain passes, behind our own magnificent fortifications. It was the business of the Yan-kees to dislodge us. How in the devil's name they managed to accomplish it matters not; they did it. Really the wonder, if wonder there be, is not that

It was a contest of a lower with a high-er civilization, and the former had to down. The haughty but indolent slave-holder and the 'possum-hunting poor white struggled desperately but vainly against men whose heads and hands were educated in the exacting school of northern industry. The men who had outstripped us in the field of labor fairly outfought us on the field of war. 'It were well for us now to cease our foolish boasting and con well the stern It was a contest of a lower with a high-foolish boasting and con well the stern lessons taught at the cannon's mouth. The first and greatest of these is that enly by honest labor, by earnest endeav-or, can a people become truly great. The war swept away the curse that was our weakness, negro slavery. It broke in upon our old exclusiveness, shattered the foolish caste that held us in iron thrall; made labor respectable and progress possible. It brought energetic northern people among us to teagh us that the way to greatness lies through the workshop; to incite us to shake off our indolence and enter the race for preferment. Grant's red-throated batterial id work they break the shaddless ies did more than break the shackles from the wrists of the blacks. They from the wrists of the blacks. They tore the cursed fetters of caste and custom from the minds of the whites—a nobler emancipation! They set the heart of southern chivalry to beating with a truer, a stronger life. In the mad tempest of battle the new South was born. The crash of arms were the groans of maternity; the deluge of blood her baptismal rite. From the ashes of desolate homes and ruined cities she sprang phomix-like, and is now mounting the empyrean with strong and steady wing. The emancipation proclamation was a bow of promise that never again while the world stands and the heavens endure will North and South meet in battle shock; that the greatmeet in battle shock; that the great-ness of the one shall become the proud heritage of the other; that the grandest section of the American Union shall yet, with God's blessing, produce the greatest people that ever adorned the earth.

'The war is long past; we fought and lost. Our triumphant foe extended to us a brother's hand, accorded us the honor due a brave and spirited people. That we should suffer reconstruction pains was to have been expected. That they were unnecessarily severe was due chiefly to the greed of a clique of politicians, partly also to the fact, that the cians; partly also to the fact that the North misunderstood us and our black North misunderstood us and our black wards, even as we persist in misunderstanding the 'Yankee.' But no gibbet rose in that storm-swept waste; our very leaders now occupy positions of honor and trust under the flag they honor and trust under the flag they defied. Let us not requite the genersity of our erstwhile foes by a base attempt to tarnish their well-earned laurels. Rather let us praise and emulate them; strive with them in a nobler field than that of war. When the North and South blend in one homogeneous people, as blend they must; when the blood of the stern Puritan mingles with that of the dashing cavalier, then, indeed, will we be a Nation and a people at which the world will stand agaze; at which the world will stand agaze; for northern vigor wedded to southern nod will

In April last W. R. McDaniel came to this city to look after the estate of his uncle, Will McDaniel, an old man who starved himself to death in this city about three years ago under the belief that there is something in the faith-cure doctrine. The estate had been settled, but there was a little money coming to the heirs, and the attorneys, Willis & Appel, were employed by the nephew to look after his interests.

The young man has mysteriously dis-appeared, and his wife and family are appeared, and his wife and family are very anxious to learn of his where-

HOW TO START A DAILY PAPER,

Or How to Fift a Long-felt Want Full-A Lecture by "Jayhawker."

It is the duty of every well-conducted newspaper to make an effort to furnish something of interest to every class of its readers. The baseball patron and the churchman alike want to know what is doing in the matters which do with the style of the paper. If it be in a city of the size and make up of this one, the paper should be, for reasons, a morning one. The evening field is chuck full and sloshin' over. It should also be an organ. A straight Re-publican paper run on principle would die for want of room, but there is always room for the crank of an organ, even if the organ itself cannot be worked in. An organ crank has its uses and is always handy for those who need another crank, because many people feel that they have organs but no crank to operate them.

The next step is to organ-ize a company in order to raise the wind-so to speak—to make the organ emit a sound. This can best be done by organizing a company. A company has its advan-tages in a case like this. In all communities there are several classes who always need an organ and who have no money to start one moving. They are played-out political bums; played-out journalists (not newspaper men) or those having the newspaper men) or those having the scribbler's itch, and people whose shady conduct has been brought to light by some existing newspaper. Perhaps all of them may be grouped into two classes and designated as "Those Having a Grievance and "Those Who Wanta Lab." Grievance and "Those Who Wanta Job." These people are always ready to assist in organizing a newspaper company. They will subscribe their grievances or their superior.services in managing the proposed organ, if any salary is offered; or if it even gives them a chance to deadhead (beat) a saloon, a free lunch, or a circus. They are experts in this line, and can air their "writin'" while waiting for a bar-"writin" while waiting for a bar-keeper to mix the drinks which some keeper to mix the drinks which some aspiring ward politician is paying for as the price of the influence of the ergan. The next step, or rather the first step, in the organization of the company is to secure the organizer. This requires a man of peculiar talents and experience, and one who carries sixty pounds of gall to each square inch of his brazen cheek, and who works himself at a high pressure with his monkeywrench hung on the safety-valve. Of course such a character is likely to be found in a person who has graduated in found in a person who has graduated in the high-school of embezzlement, or some of its collateral branches, with a railroad and legislative record as a basis. A character of this kind, upon which public contempt nine stories high has emptied from its upper windows the buckets of its sewage, will have the necessary qualifications to organize a company, for the odors which it carries will always invite the sewer

Having secured the organizer, the work may be regarded as under way. Such a person can subsist on the work of organizing. Indeed, such persons of organizing. Indeed, such persons generally secure themselves as organizers, as soon as they sniff the sewer gas from the long felt want—and they take the field. They at once recruit a tag from the grouper gard the several tag. staff from the grievance gang and those staff from the grievance gains and those who have long felt the want of money. A staff is as necessary in an operation of this kind as they are to work any other bunco game. The organizer is the fellow with the "lay-out," and the staff are the "steerers." When the game is ready to work, it presents at private wide field. The first step is to day. All the arrangements for other career of the principal association were completed yesterday and Los Angeles secures the principal criminals are often secreted under the garments of aggregated capital (though the capital may be stolen,) and they often need organs. Of course they cannot always be depended upon to subscribe money to start a new organ. It may be that bit-ter experience has taught them how much cheaper they can buy the support of an old organ than they can start and sustain a new one. But the staff never loses sight of possibilities, and they can always give "the hint on the dead," that the organ will be started, and the corporation had better get in on the ground floor.

The usual practice is to get a lot of outside politicians—say ex-members of boodle legislatures, and county officials, to subscribe a certain sum, conditional upon certain fellows in the city putting up another certain sum. The man with the "lay out" has the articles of incorporation and the subscription incorporation and the subscription list always in his "inside pocket," and as long as the subscription list is short, the articles of incorporation do not show the names of the directors and other officers. It is well to propose to get ten city men to subscribe $1000 each—half cash, half in negotiable notes. The outside victims can be induced to subscribe upon the condition that the $10,000 can be secured from the inside suckers, "no go; no pay." the inside suckers, "no go; no pay. When a good outside list is made upthe inside suckers, "no go; no pay," When a good outside list is made up—or even thought up.— it can be used as a lever to pry up the inside victims. One gang can be "played" against the other. Meanwhile a subscription list to the paper can be worked up from the directory or Great Register. It always shows a public hunger for an organ. This list should contain about ten thousand names. A good way to get outside names is to take a few old registers from hotels. This gives a fine ters from hotels. This gives a fine country subscription, which is always gratifying to city politicians who wang the country vote of a whole Congressional district.

IF IT IS TRUE HE HAS HAD HIS FULL SHARE OF ADVENTURE.

He Is But Thirty-eight Years Old and Has Escaped from the Mines of Siberia. How He Made His Way to America. His Fall from a Balloon and Escape.

Recently there came to Boston a man whose history was probably never equaled by anybody, and probably will never be. The man was Ivan Orloff, a Russian, who was born in St. Petersburg about thirty-eight years ago. One of the most important things in the history of his wonderful career is the fact that he is one of a few who have escaped from the coal mines of Siberia.

Orloff arrived in this city from New York. One of the hottest days of the year he was overcome by the heat at the north end. Some passersby who noticed his condition came to his aid and gave him some whisky, while another stole from him a new electric battery, which he had bought recently. Emerson, she to have it during her On regaining consciousness he inquired his way to the nearest police station, and life and pay $500 a year to his daugh-ter Bessie, then sixteen years old. His relatives rose was directed to station 1. Upon his arrival there he asked Captain Cain if he could not lie down and vest for a while. The good natured officer of course said as one man and tried to prove the yes, and the man, soon after sitting down in the guardroom, began to doze. The captain, noticing his condition, sent for Dr. Elliott. pused Bessie out of the Rosine bone, to which she had been consigned, but she returned soon after of her own will. A jury decided that the doctor was insane and a commis-

The stranger was then taken to the surgery room and examined by the doctor and his assistant, Dr. Dunn, who applied the usual restoratives. The doctors told him to keep quiet and that he would soon be all right, but he appeared to be so nervous that he excited the suspicions case went to the supreme court.

The doctor then married Miss Emerson and Bessle ran off with Willie Heft, son of of not only the doctors, but the police. In his pockets Captain Cain found a lot a wealthy hotel keeper. His parents brought suit to set aside the marriage on the ground that Willie was insane, but of instruments. Upon being questioned he informed the people in the room that they were musical instruments.

"Can you play?" asked Captain Cain, "Well, a little," was Orloff's reply.

ESCAPE FROM SIBERIA'S MINES. He was then invited to go to the parlor of the house, where he was shown the piano. The first piece he played was a se-lection from Mendelssohn, and never before, and probably never again, was such music heard inside the walls of the station. After he had played numerous fine greatly interested in him, and began ning him. As a result he told a story, which was as follows:

He was born in St. Petersburg, Russia, and was a student in a medical college in that place. One day the rooms of the students were raided and a lot of inflammatory documents and seditious papers were found in his room. However, he would not admit that they belonged to him. He was arrested and sentenced to coal mines, from which he managed to Assuming the role of an Englishman this he being able to do as he speaks English very fluently as well as th languages, he was easily enabled to work his why through the country without being detected, as he was penniless. After a good deal of traveling and suffering he managed to reach western China Arriving there he was arrested on the charge of stealing food.

"The residents of this portion of China are exceedingly barbarous, and without trial I was sentenced to have my head chopped off. However, luck was again with me, and by some hook or crook an English official heard of my predicament. After a great deal of hard work he managed to secure my release.

"I started across China again, all the time being afraid I would be arrested and sent back to the awful mines. However, I finally managed to get a job aboard a vessel and shipped to America, landing at San Francisco.

"During the Franco-Prussian war I was in the French army commanded by McMahon, but I was directly under Marshal Bazaine.

ladies of the highest rank struggled for a place in his congregation.

For seven years this popularity contidued, and then Irving "went off," as they phrase it there—that is, became a fanatic on prophecy and the "gift of tongues."

Dr. James Hamilton succeeded him at Regent Square, then Dr. Oswald Dykes, and after him came, in 1889, this "eloquent Scotchman." The church and the manare equally remarkable. He then branched from his own his-tory and told of the surrender of Metz to the Germans and the escape of Bazaine

Continuing his story, he said:
"During the war, while the Germans were besieging the city, two companions and myseir were sent up in a captive balloon (one which had a long rope tied to the ground) to ascertain the number of the opposing army. When in midair the balloon was struck by a shell, caus-ing the airship to explode.

"My companions and myself fell to the ground, my companions being in-stantly killed, while I was knocked senseless and the bones of my arms, feet and hands being broken in several places.

My skull was also fractured.

"I was in the hospital at Metz for over a year. After leaving Metz I traveled considerably and was in Alexandria the birth of the price of the state of the s at the time of the siege by the British early in the eighties."

Here the man, who must bear a charmed life, showed the doctors and the police his body, which, to say the least, was a "sight." His arms, hands, legs and feet plainly showed that they had been broken. Upon examining his skull the physicians found inserted in his head a ce of platinum of silver, where his scalp was missing.

Orloff told more about his life, which is full of exciting incidents. Owing to the injuries with which this wonderful man has met his system is naturally a very nervous one. A hot atmosphere al-ways affects him and he is easily overome. His normal temperature is 98.2. -Boston Record.

His Acquaintances Were Lawyers Many eccentric witnesses get into the box with preconceived notions that an honest lawyer is a rara avis never to be found in any court, and consequently, on occasions, indulge in a slap at the profession.

"Is it not true that you first provoked my client by describing him as a rascal?" asked a barrister of a witness in a case of assault.

"Well, no; not exactly," answered the man. "I just said he had no more conscience than a lawyer; that was all that caused him to hit me."

"And now, sir," demanded a counsel, holding up a warning finger to a witness, whose character for integrity he wished to call into question, "is it not true that your associates are often of the shadlest char-

The villages of New England are among The villages of New England are among the pleasantest in the world, and the chief secret of their charm is summed up in one word: Trees. The people who laid them out, a century or two ago had the good sense to plant a few score of young trees about the green and along the streets. Now, look at them! Glorious elms arch the streets and envalon the place in place. Now, look at them! Glorious elms arch the streets and envelop the place in shade. The meanest cottage is pleasant and pleturesque if it stands beneath a fine old tree. The poorest village is good to live in it it nestles under giant trees. Plant trees. Plant them round the schoolhouse. Plant them round the church. Plant them on the common. Plant them along the street. Make all the villages and towns pleasant with trees.—New York Ledger.

Blows the Microbes Out of His Cigars. "Did you notice that fellow who just left the counter here?" asked the proprietor of the eigar stand in a down town hotel office. "He is a dust crank."

'Well, what is a 'dust crank?' " I asked. "Well, what is a 'dust crank?" I asked.
"Now and then we strike a smoker who believes that cigars contain a great quantity of minute dust which is swarming with deadly microbes that are likely to get into the smoker's lungs and cause all sorts of dire diseases. Such fellows always cut off the smaller end of the cigar and blow through the weed from the oth as if it were a tube."—Chicago Mail.

At one of the camp meetings they were discussing the question as to whether it is a sin to have hot dinners on Sûndays. The discussion occupied all of Sunday forenoon, and then the disputants adjourned to a cold dinner. After this they came together again, and the question was unanimously decided in the negative.—Boston Herald.

and they are now really in earnest. General Manager Wade when asked about the attitude of San Diego in this matter said that it was all based on a misconception. San Diego had practically been made by the railroad company and there could be no possible reason why any species of discrimination should be practiced against the place in favor of any other point. The general offices and shops have been located at points where the best interests of the company will be served, for the railroad is run upon strictly business principles as are other enterprises conducted for profit. He repeats that the company will do everything for San Diego that can be done consistently and with justice to other places in Southern California; but the general offices and shops should remain at central points of the Southern California lines.

The Southern Pacific special train, bearing officials of the road on an inspection trip, arrived yesterday as expected. The officials made a brief stop at the Arcade depot and proceeded on their way to Santa Ana, returning immediately. They afterward visited San Pedro and Santa Monica. Today they make a run to Colton, and upon returning thence at noon, will retrace their way to San Francisco. The principal object of this trip was to look over the country which will be traversed by the coast line, as has been related here, and the inspection of the branches in this section is to be rapidly passed over. In relation to the completion of the road which will make another through line between Los Angeles and San Francisco, along the coast, Col. Crocker said that the company is prepared to do its part in che agreement with the right-of-way committees. These committees have yet some work to do before the way is clear, but the road will go through. Once begün, the work of construction will be rapidly pushed. First, it will be necessary to bore a tunnel at Santa Margarita, which would require a year's time, but other work could be carried on in the meantime.
